all the miners, but theirs differed from all the miners, but theirs differed from most deaths from that cause. There was no discoloration of the bodies as there is in other cases. Nitro-glycerine gases never cause anything of the kind.

"None of the dead suffered in the least, I am sure," continued the doctor. "They must have heard the explosion, but, of course, did not know what it was. They imagined probably that it was a cave-in. Those who were brought was a cave-in. Those who were brought up partially injured, but resuscitated, state that they suffered no pain whatever. It was just like going into an anaesthetic sleep. Death was not instantaneous, but none knew, when his stantaneous, but none knew, when his legs began to grow weak and he lay down, that he was lying down to die. They were just tired and sleepy, so much so that they could not work and lay down like a child to rest."

Theory of Accident. The Daly-West has not resumed operations, but will likely begin tomorrow with at least one shift. Men will be sent down tomorrow to find the body of the unfortunate powder monkey. Not a trace of the man who is thought to have caused the great disease. Not a trace of the man who is thought to have caused the great disaster has been found. It is believed by experienced miners and by some of those in charge of the mine that no part of his remains will ever be found. It has been almost positively learned that he went into the magazine with a light of some kind. The explosion followed shortly after, and his body must have been blown into atoms. The fire which een blown into atoms. The fire which followed and consumed the rest of the powder, causing the deadly fumes, in all probability burned every vestige that was left from the explosion. Mike Hennessey, shift boss, who was on duty at the time of the accident, and who barely escaped death by going to the surface on an errand, left here tonight for Salt Lake. He has worked constantly since the tragedy, and was forced to go in order to secure some rest. His family is located in Salt Lake, and the trip was made partially to allay the feelings of apprehension for his safety that have been entertained.

It has been asserted that the road would form an alliance with the Rock Island from that point, but the possibility of a tie-up with the Union Pacific appears more plausible. It involves the question of reciprocity which cannot enter so well with any but a through line, and there must be taken into consideration the question of the greater prolits that would accrue

Possible That the Long Sought Opportunity Is at Hand.

There has been much speculation regarding the alliance that will be formed if the Moffat road goes through from Denver to Salt Lake. The fact that the articles of incorporation have been filed under the name of the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific railroad, again brings the subject under discussion. There has been some question whether the road would go through at all, but it is a significant fact that when the first ten miles were let, all the large eastern contractors were bidders for the work. The road will cost $20,000,aster who lived in this city, have been made. The services over the remains of John Featherstone will be held from the family residence, 75 N street, today money is at hand. It is expected that announcement that all the necessary money is at hand. It is expected that active work on the main line will be commenced by the first of September, has been looking for an alliance that will give it an outlet to the coast, and while it has been denied that a com-bination with the new road will be effected, still in the face of persistent rumors, it looks as if the reports are not without foundation of some sort, although it has not yet been possible to trace them to any positive source.

Short Line Improvements.

Work is to be commenced shortly on the new track of the Oregon Short Line between the Salt Lake yards and Beck's hot springs. A distance of less than two miles will be covered, and the cost will be about $21,000. The surthe cost will be about $21,000. The survey is complete, and the road is ready for construction. The new line will not only cut down considerable mileage, but will do away with a bad curve that has proved such an obstacle in the handling of heavy trains. The new line is west of the present main line, and the improvement is one of several under contemplation seeking an outlet by the shartest seeking an outlet by the shortest possible route to southern California.

Salt Lake yesterday. In the party were several legislators from Iowa. The party was in charge of A. M. Allen. secretary of the Des Moines university. They will go to the Yellowstone by way of St. Anthony, and expect to spend about ten days in the park, where they will camp in the open air wherever they happen to be at night. They left last evening in the special car Topaz over the Oregon Short Line, highly pleased with their visit.

Lake Department. Major Liddell, chief of the newly or ganized paid fire department of Boise City, Ida., spent yesterday in this city looking over the local fire department with a view to adopting some of its improvements in the department at Bose. Up to a short time ago, Mr. Liddeli says, Boise City had only a volunteer fire department, but a few months ago a paid department was organized. Chief Devine took the visiting chief through the department during the afternoon and gave him a ride to the five ernoon and gave him a ride to the fire that called the department out during the afternoon. Mr. Liddell expressed himself as well pleased with the sys-tem used here. He stated that they expected to purchase some new apparatus, and would probably get apparatus like the Salt Lake devartment.
